

freezes, an end to evictions,
and no forced redundancies.

- Link up with socialists across the world to develop an internationalist response to COVID-19, centred on migrants' rights and combating nationalism: support community struggles and push the Labour Party to advocate for safe passage for refugees, universal access to public services and funds, the closure of detention centres, and the full voting rights for all residents.